This Service Of Life And Humanity

YOU love life! YOU want to live and so do millions of other Canadians. That is why the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service was formed and has reached the heights it maintains. This Service wants you to live, it goes much farther than that, it helps you to live and gives you the opportunity to help, too. YOU are the mainstay of this work of humanity, by becoming a donor or an active booster, you are helping not only yourself but others.

No one knows when a catastrophe may overtake us, you or I may be next! No one knows when a bottle of this Miracle Fluid might be the means of saving YOUR life or MINE.

It is no idle boast to refer to a blood donation as "Miracle Fluid". It is exactly that! Do you realize that the most brilliant scientist in the most up to date laboratory cannot make as much as one tiny teaspoonful of it? More than that, they cannot make a true substitute for it. YOU and I and our good neighbors are the only source of supply. All we are asked to give is one small amount, less than a pint, of the 13 pints we normal humans have... and of course some of our valuable time. Often we feel we could spare the blood far easier than we can the time. Please bear with us... we waste no time... nor one precious drop of YOUR "Miracle Fluid".

When you are asked to give a donation of blood for your blood bank you can rest assured that your system will make up the loss of fluid content in a few hours and in two or three weeks your blood will be back to normal.

Thank you neighbor for your help.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Terry left on Friday for their home at Prova after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Melchin the past two weeks.

Little Terry Anne Selman returned home Friday after having her tonsils out.

A Peterson Family Reunion, the first to be held in Canada, was enjoyed at Waterton Lakes Park on July 9th. When about 146 people gathered for a lovely dinner, followed by a fine program and visiting.

Among those present were Victor and Douglas Peterson and wives from Montana, Mrs. Anna Marquanson and family of Vancouver, B. C., Dr. Henry Peterson of Logan, Utah, Hyrum Peterson and wife and Sam Peterson and wife, Esther Stodmeister, Beverly Daves and family, Mrs. Francis Anderson and children, Bert Hardy and family all of Ogden, Utah. Also present were three sisters of John and C. D. Peterson, Mrs. Emma T. Bingham of Ogden, Mrs. Helga Doman of Huntsville and Mrs. Margaret Thomas and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Myers and Mrs. Billie Peel and daughter Sandra. Mrs. LaMarr Peterson and children Miss Ruth Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clawson all of Salt Lake City, and Mr. and Mrs. Hardy of Tooele, Utah. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Gibb of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rabidou of Calgary also attended the Reunion.

The Management and Staff of the Raymond Coffee Shop wish to extend their sincere appreciation to the Fire Department and all those who helped put out the fire in their coal house on Saturday afternoon.

Fire Damages Shed

Last Saturday afternoon a fire did damage amounting to several hundred dollars to the storage shed and coal house at the rear of the Raymond Coffee Shop. The fire was caused by a burning ember lodging against the shed and causing some grease-soaked rags on the inside to ignite. Before the prompt action of the local fire fighters extinguished the blaze the inside and contents of the shed were badly damaged. The fire was assisted by the wind that came through a door on the west end of the shed but was held into a comparatively small space because the door leading into the restaurant was closed.

A new building of cinder brick with a tin roof will be erected to take the burned shed's place.

Valedictorian Receives Readers Digest Award

Yoko Karaki, valedictorian of the graduating class at Lewis High School has been given the Annual Award of The Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community, it was announced today by Mr. Lyman Jacobs, principal.

Miss Karaki will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved Certificate from the Editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come".

The Reader's Digest Association has presented these awards yearly in senior high schools throughout Canada and the United States to the highest honour student of the graduating class.

The awards are part of the educational program sponsored by the Association and were a logical outgrowth of the wide use of The Reader's Digest in school work.

The award to Miss Karaki, was made possible through the cooperation of Mr. Jacobs and his teaching staff. They selected Miss Karaki to receive the award, designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship, and continue contact with good reading after graduation.

Lavon and Lavere Robinson, who recently returned from Red Deer where they attended the Composite High School last year, have returned home for the summer. They are working at the Canning Factory in Magrath this summer and plan to enter the Galt Hospital in September for Nurses Training.

Mrs. Bill Prut of Wendell, Idaho, is visiting here at the home of her sister Mrs. Donna Meldrum.

THE RAYMOND LION

Installation of our new officers along with a gay Ladies Night party featured the last meeting of the season for the Raymond Lions Club. Program Chairman, Deb Thomson and Lioness Fern had arranged for some fine entertainment consisting of the following: (1) An instrumental by Pat Strong, Tom King and Ken Hicken. (2) Vocal solo by Velma Digelow. (3) Duet by Richard McKean and Faye Attwood. (4) Recital by Betty Evans. (5) Vocal solo and piano solo by Herb Bishop. Lion Joe McLean also lead the group in a short lively sing-song.

A very delicious cold plate supper was served to some sixty guests by Mrs. Mary Thompson and Mrs. Flo McKean. We would like to take this opportunity of thanking our caterers who have fed us in such fine style for the past ten months. We are sure they now know we can eat like Lions and the good food served up on each occasion demanded just that.

Lion Phil Baker of the Lethbridge Club, who has been prominent in the cause of Lionism and one of those directly concerned with forming the Raymond Club, then inducted the new officers for the 1952-53 season.

The call goes out to rally around Pres. our Joe and new executive and give them the strong support they need in making the Raymond Lions Club a strong active organization worthy of being called a Lions Service Club.

FOR PARENTS ONLY

By Nancy Cleaver

Robert Louis Stevenson, in one of his essays spoke of "the bright face of danger". There is a certain fascination, particularly for boys and girls in physical risk. They are eager to investigate and explore and they get a thrill out of new and exciting situations.

When parents come across an account in the press of a child being hurt, they immediately think of their own youngster. There is scarcely a single edition of a paper which does not describe a mishap to some boy or girl.

When parents are reading the news, it is a good idea to read about the report of an accident. Instead of moralizing, parents can ask their child,

"How did this happen?"

"How could it have been avoided?"

"Do you ever take risk like this?"

"Do you think it is worth a broken leg (or whatever the damage is) to take chances?"

Fire is one major accident source. If a child's clothes catch on fire, he should be taught never to run screaming for help. He should cry out and roll on the floor in order to put out the flames. If a grown-up is present, the adult should swiftly wrap a rug or coat or tablecloth around the child, placing him on the floor to keep the flames from his face.

During the winter months there are a number of tragic home fires reported in which children have been burned. These remind the parents to check on the possibilities of a fire in their own house from an overheated stove or pipes, poor chimney service, defective wiring, oily rags being left around or some other reason.

A home fire also underlines the fact that being a parent is a twenty-four hour a day job. When mother and dad go out in the evening they must leave a responsible person in charge. Young children are too immature to be left alone to cope with fire or serious danger in any form.

Even when mother is home she may be talking on the telephone when Junior reaches up and pulls a hot frying pan off the stove burn himself, or Janey may quietly dump the contents of mother's talcum powder over her face and almost smother herself.

If there are small children in the house and only one busy mother to care for them, every effort must be made to provide a safe environment for their play. A play pen has saved many a toddler from accident. When a child gets too big for a play pen, it is a splendid idea to have a small play space which is barricaded off from the rest of the house with a folding gate or partition.

A baby should never be left so he can roll off a table or bed. Windows must have guards so a child cannot fall out. Hallway should be well lighted, objects should never be left on the stairs. A child or a grown-up can easily have a serious fall by stepping on a toy and being thrown head long down the steps.

Small safety pins, coins, buttons, and other small objects a tiny child might swallow, should be kept out of sight. Mothers often remember to lock the medicine cabinet in the bathroom. But they frequently forget that cleaning fluid, insecticides and talcum powder may also cause a disastrous accident.

Children must be taught not to touch certain things such as electric equipment, iron etc. and attachments. When the washing machine wringer is in action, keep the child occupied in another room. Check on the wall plugs, and make sure your child cannot receive a severe shock by putting a damp little finger into the outlet.

MOTHER'S STAGGERING BILL

A ten-year-old overheard a conversation about certain bills for service rendered which had to be paid, and conceived the idea of making out a bill of his own services. So the next morning he laid his statement of account on his mother's breakfast plate: "Mother owes Willie for carrying coal six times, twenty cents; for bringing water lots of times, thirty cents, for going ten errands, fifteen cents; total, sixty-five cents." His mother read the bill, but said nothing. That evening Willie found on his plate the sixty-five cents, and also another bill, which read as follows: "Willie owes Mother for his happy home for ten years, nothing; for his food and clothing, nothing; for nursing him through a long illness, nothing; total, nothing."

When Willie saw the sixty-five cents he was pleased, but when he read his mother's note his eyes became dim and his lips quivered. Then he took the money to his mother, threw his arms around her, and begged that she would let him do lots of things for her. Mother's bill is rarely presented, but it will pay each child to think it over for himself and then pay it in love and service.

RAYMOND

When it comes time to close the house up for the summer, many homeowners overlook important safety measures in the vacation rush. It's therefore best to do some advance thinking and planning about the precautions to take guard against damage while you are away.

Here is a check list of points to cover which the Minneapolis-Honeywell people have found to be most helpful to homeowners buttoning up their homes or the summer.

1. Arrange to have gas, water and electricity shut off.
2. Disconnect the refrigerator, defrost and clean it and leave doors open for airing.
3. Check the roof for leaks and repair before leaving. Also clean leaves from gutters and downspouts.
4. Clean out the furnace and lubricate moving parts. If it's an automatic oil burner, call in your serviceman to condition it so it will be ready for use next winter.
5. Remove dangers of spontaneous combustion by cleaning up piles of rags, clothes and rubbish and removing old paint, oil or gasoline cans.
6. Lock securely all doors and windows, particularly those in the cellar, but do not draw blinds. This calls attention to the fact that the house is not occupied.
7. Discontinue delivery of milk and newspapers, and if you're going to be gone for at least two weeks, temporarily discontinue the phone service and take advantage of the reduced rate.
8. Make arrangements for someone to mow the lawn and water the shrubs.
9. Leave a key to your house with a neighbor for use in an emergency.
10. Notify the police, particularly if you live in the suburbs, that you are going away. They'll keep an eye on your house.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE ACT AMENDED

Two of the recent amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act, those increasing rates of benefit and reducing the waiting period, will come into force, by proclamation, on July 14. This was announced today by the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

The top rate of benefit paid to a person entitled to the dependency rate will then be $4.60 a day and, for a single person $2.85 a day. At present these are $3.50 and $2.70 respectively.

The increased rates and the reduction in waiting days will apply only to days of unemployment that occur on or after July 14. These amendments were recommended to the Government by the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Committee.

Another amendment extends until April 15 of each year the period during which supplementary benefits will be paid. Of interest also is an amendment providing that there will be no discrimination in the selection of applicants for placement because of racial origin, color, religious beliefs, or political affiliation. The Commission, through its national chain of employment offices, has been following the practice legalized in this amendment. The principle now is given statutory recognition in the amendment.

It has for some time been recognized that the Unemployment Insurance Act is one of the most important pieces of social legislation in Canada. From time to time national bodies in different fields make recommendations to the Commission which, if implemented would involve amending the Act. The great labour organizations have for some time been urging an increase in benefits and also a reduction in the number of waiting days. The Act just passed goes at least part way in the direction of implementing their requests.

Before the amendment Bill was passed the maximum benefit which could be paid to a person with a dependent was $21.00 a week. This is increased to $24.00. On a daily basis, the increase is from $3.50 to $4.00. The other classes of benefit, except the two lower classes, show comparable increases. It was felt that in the case of the two lower classes benefit was as high as possible without resulting in the danger of over-insurance.

Under the Unemployment Insurance Act there is what is known as a waiting period. This period follows an application for benefit, occurs at the beginning of each benefit year. It has, in the past, consisted of eight days during which no benefit was paid. Also, at the beginning of each period of unemployment, there is what is known as "one non-compensable day". This made a total of nine days. The result of the amendment will be that no benefits are payable for the first week after a person files a claim rather than for the first nine days as at present.

A benefit year sometimes terminates while a person is unemployed. It was found that hardship resulted when a waiting period occurred during a period of continued unemployment. The claimant may be able to qualify immediately for a second benefit year. Under the Act as it formerly stood, he would receive no benefit for the first nine days of the second benefit year. The new provision will permit the Commission to postpone this waiting period.

It will be recalled that supplementary benefits, which were first payable in February 1950, terminated at the end of March of each year. It has been found that this period is not sufficiently long to take care of seasonal unemployment during the winter. Consequently an amendment extends the period during which supplementary benefits may be paid to certain classes of people who cannot qualify for regular benefit, until April 15th.

It is unnecessary to elaborate on the 5th major amendment to which reference has already been made. The Commission does not discriminate on grounds of racial origin, colour, religious belief or political affiliation. Of course the Commission is, to a certain extent, in the hands of the employer in filling his orders. It is performing a voluntary service both for workers and employers. It cannot dictate to an employer the nature of the worker or worker's whom he will employ. On the other hand inclusion of this provision in the Unemployment Insurance Act gives formal approval and force to the principle of non-discrimination.

Only Canadian Bank To Get U. S. Advertising Award

Another top advertising honor has gone to the Bank of Montreal with the award of a citation "for outstanding use of advertising methods" which it received from the American Bankers Association for its entry in what is known as "Banking's 1952 Forum in Print." Of the 27 banks in North America awarded citation, the Bank of Montreal was the only Canadian institution thus honored.

The award was made to the B of M of its advertising of "Personal Planning"—a new system of family financing—and its promotion of "Canada Today". The latter is a brochure the bank published for the purpose of publicizing the industrial and commercial opportunities of Canada among businessmen abroad. The publication previously won an award in the "25 Canadian Direct-Mail Leaders Contest", which was one of three top advertising honors received by the Bank of Montreal in 1951.

A comprehensive agricultural survey of Southern Alberta's potentialities in production of field crops for processing is being conducted by agronomists of the American Can Company, it was announced today.

The survey, one of the most thorough undertaken by an industrial concern in recent years, is being made by Dr. F. W. Geise, of Chicago, manager of the can-making firm's agronomy division, and H. T. Moore of Hamilton, agronomist of the company's Canadian Division. They arrived in Lethbridge June 15 and are making their headquarters in that city.

The project will entail the gathering from growers, canners, and federal, provincial agricultural and meteorological authorities. It will include studies on soil, climate and other conditions having to do with the growing and processing of vegetables.

The agronomist for the can company, a pioneer in development of modern metal and fibre containers, will visit Lethbridge, Taber, Magrath and Brooks as well as the major irrigation projects in the region's vegetable growing areas.

The company is making the survey as part of its service to its food-canning customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Allred had among their guests last week Mr. Allred's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wade of Salt Lake City.

Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich Gehmlich of Salt Lake are home visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Meldrum and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Gehmlich for a couple of weeks.

If the water in the tap gets very hot, train the child not to touch it for fear of scalding. Always test the temperature of bath water with the elbow, before a child jumps in to have a bath.

The kitchen is the scene of many home mishaps. Make a rule that your child cannot play near the stove when a meal is being prepared. Turn the pot handles in so little fingers cannot reach up and grasp them. Watch the steam from the kettle, because a steam burn can be very painful. Keep sharp knives, scissors etc. out of reach or locked up. Every mother should see to it that her home is equipped with an adequate medicine cabinet. Mother and father should also know what to do in case of an accident.

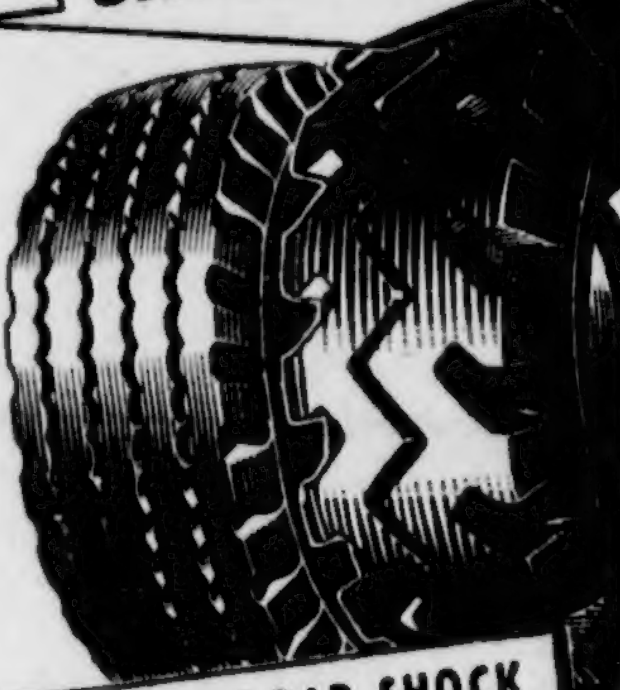

Call the doctor if in doubt and follow his advice exactly. Have on hand a reliable booklet such as the Canadian Red Cross Society's "Health, Home Nursing and Emergencies" where you can find directions what to do if a child swallows poison, is asphyxiated, or chokes etc.

"Safe at Home" has a good sound—but keeping active, small youngsters free from harm is no easy task. Providing a suitable home environment, and teaching children sensible precautions go hand in hand.

Some mishaps are bound to occur. But they should be as few as possible. Parents and children should both learn to keep cool and do the wise thing when an emergency arises.

On Wednesday afternoon Katherine Brandley, Kay Anderson, Roxie Hamilton, Ruth Nalder, Margaret Taylor and Nora Stone were really kind to their husbands and took them to hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Lovett Lee, for a Waterton for a wonderful time in the open. Some went boating, some went window shopping and some went golfing. Two feeds were the high lights of the day — fried chicken etc for dinner and a big weiner roast at night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Palmer enjoyed a vacation in Calgary this week where they attended the Stampede. They also motored to Banff with their Mr. and Mrs. Lovett Lee, for a visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Hawk.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Jensen had as their guests on Dominion Day Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Miller of Lethbridge.

The movies, home nursing, first aid classes or just plain common sense was very evident at about 2 p. m. on Dominion Day at the Lions playground. Two of the playmates of Lenore Coppieters made a chair of their hands and carried her to the home of Ezra Christensen after she had had the misfortune to fall from the Giant Strides and break her leg.

Mrs. Ada Argill entertained the Birthday Club at her home last week with Mrs. Elsie Mitchell being the honored guest. Chatting and a delicious lunch were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Nova O'Brien was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rutley (nee Delores Card) and daughter Elaine of Edmonton were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wilde over the holiday week-end.
